

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

November 9, 2009

Cornerstone Health Care Dedicates Conference Room in New Building

High Point, NC — Cornerstone Health Care recently held a ceremony honoring the late surgeon, Raymond Carr, MD, of Cornerstone Surgery, by dedicating the conference room on the first floor of the Cornerstone Health Care at Westchester building at 1814 Westchester Drive in his name. According to Cornerstone President and CEO, Grace E. Terrell, MD, the dedication honors Dr. Carr, his wife Anne, and their family for his many years of service to the High Point medical community and in recognition of the key role he played in the establishment of Cornerstone.

This is the fifth conference room in the Cornerstone Health Care at Westchester building named in honor of Cornerstone physicians. The conference room on the second floor of the new medical building located at 1814 Westchester Drive was dedicated in honor of Dr. DuBose Ravenel of Cornerstone Pediatrics. The library was named for Dr. Harvey Tilles of Asheboro Foot and Ankle Specialists. In March, a double ceremony was held for the naming of the conference room on the third floor in honor of retired physicians, Dr. Edwin Auman and Drs. Eugene and Eldora Terrell, and the naming of the conference room on the fourth floor in honor of Dr. Chester Haworth of Cornerstone Neurology.

Anne Carr, widow of Raymond Carr, MD, reads the plaque honoring her late husband, during the dedication of the 1st floor conference room in the new Cornerstone Health Care at Westchester building. Cornerstone President and CEO, Grace E. Terrell, MD, and Dr. Carr's former partner, Gary L. Biesecker, MD, of Cornerstone Surgery, were among the guests at the recent ceremony which included Dr. Carr's family, friends and medical colleagues.