Winston-Salem Neurologist Named Chairman of Board of Cornerstone Health Care

High Point, NC — David D. Meyer, MD was elected Chairman of the Board of Directors of Cornerstone Health Care at a recent Board meeting. According to Grace E. Terrell, MD, President and CEO of the large multi-disciplinary physician group, “Dr. Meyer brings a wealth of experience to his new position, serving as a respected leader in the Winston-Salem medical community for over thirty years and as a member of our Board of Directors since 2007. As Chairman of our Strategic Planning Committee, he has provided valuable guidance during a time of significant increases in the number of practices joining Cornerstone, and a subsequent expansion of our service area.”

Dr. Meyer is a partner with Triad Neurological Associates of Winston-Salem, a specialty practice that joined Cornerstone in 2005. He is the incoming President of the North Carolina Neurological Society. Dr. Meyer holds a medical degree from Bowman Gray School of Medicine, where completed his residency training in Neurology and served as an Instructor in Neurology. He was awarded a Master of Business Administration degree by the University of Phoenix. His undergraduate studies were completed at Wake Forest University. Dr. Meyer has led an extensive amount of research studies, several of which have been published in national medical journals.

Thomas R. Walsh, MD was recognized at the January Shareholder meeting as the outgoing Chairman, having served with distinction in that key leadership role since 2001. Kalpen Patel, MD, another outgoing Board Member, was also recognized for his six years of service. The other Cornerstone 2010 Board of Directors officers include Van Fletcher, MD, Vice President; James C. Anderson, MD, Secretary; Michael J. Lucas, MD, Treasurer; and John W. Weaver, MD, Assistant Secretary.
